

DISCLAIMER: The Twilight franchise is the property of Stephenie Meyer. No copyright infringement is intended.

Golden Hour

Life has been quiet and happy for the Cullens in the six years since their confrontation with the Volturi. Renesmee is nearly at her full maturity, and her growth is now so gradual that she can attend high school, posing as Edward's sister, in their new town.

After Alice's hazy vision of a possible threat to the Cullens prompts them to move again, Renesmee decides she wants more independence. Vampires and werewolves have surrounded her for her entire life, and now she yearns to explore her human side as she tries to find her place in the world. She convinces Edward and Bella to allow her to attend college, with her best friend Jacob by her side. Struggling to fit in with the human world, confused by her changing relationship with Jacob, and tempted by her mysterious new friend Mia, Renesmee feels pulled in several directions at once.

Everything changes when Alice foresees Volturi guards capturing Edward. The Cullens focus on protecting him, only to realize too late that it was a trick – the Volturi have taken Renesmee as bait to get to Bella! Edward and Bella rush to Italy and face the prospect of joining the Volturi to save their daughter's life. As they desperately search for a way for all three of them to escape safely, help arrives in the form of some very powerful allies. The Volturi have nowhere to run this time and the battle for survival begins. But which coven will triumph? Will Renesmee ever see Jacob again and have the chance to confess her love?

{Golden hour occurs twice a day, the first hour after dawn and the last hour before dusk.}